

Father-Daughter Duo Sarah and Patrick Getchell Releases Fantasy Book 'Firebound Harmony'

Dallas, Texas Jun 27, 2024 (IssueWire.com) - Writing fantasy stories that appeal to not just children but adults too is a challenge that even eminent writers fail at. Acing this genre is a difficult thing to do but the talented father-daughter duo Sarah and Patrick Getchell have proved otherwise with their latest work. The writer duo has just released a brand new fantasy book for adults named 'Firebound Harmony: Princess and Dragon Unite'. The book is part of an adult fantasy series, titled 'Firebound Harmony', which is going to be a three-book series. Book 1 is focused on Princess Jaylen who aims to restore the bond between her people and dragons. The captivating writing and the gripping plot is something that the readers have explicitly enjoyed which kept them intrigued till the very end of the book.

The story takes readers to the magical world of Lianthis where a thousand of years ago dragons and humans lived in harmony. But due to some unforeseen circumstances, after years, dragons are seen as the enemy. The story follows a heart-warming bond between Princess Jaylen and the dragon Aurelia who need to prove their friendship is pure to not only the entire kingdom, but the king too. The way both the writers have developed the storyline and the characters has given readers the ultimate fantasy world to get lost in. Upon release, the book has already gathered several good reviews, hyping up the novel even further. Readers have particularly enjoyed how Jaylen and Aurelia's journey of restoring the age-old alliance between dragons and humans faced several challenges, yet they did not give up till the end.

It is also extremely rare for an equally talented father to team up with his daughter to carry on their writing endeavors which both Patrick and Sarah Getchell did. The spellbound novel which transcends the readers to a different world of fantasy is now available on Amazon and for more details, visit <https://fireboundharmony.com/>.
