

Renowned Forensic Psychologist Ray Hendrickson, JD, PsyD, at Antioch University Seattle

New York City, New York Jun 18, 2024 (Issuewire.com) - A highly respected figure in the field of forensic psychology, Dr. Hendrickson is a member of the Adjunct Faculty at Antioch University Seattle in Washington, sharing his expertise in forensic psychology, ethics, intelligence, and various treatment and assessment courses with students. His impressive career spans over three decades, during which he has made significant contributions to the fields of law and psychology.

His diverse career journey includes 31 years of practicing law in California, where he obtained his PhD in psychology from Alliant International University. His dedication to serving individuals with developmental disabilities led him to work part-time in a private clinical psychology practice in Irvine, California for 13 years.

After retiring from the practice of law in 2004, Dr. Hendrickson continued his commitment to the field of psychology by working as a contract psychologist with the California Department of Corrections in Lancaster and Corcoran. Since 2006, he has been a forensic evaluator with the Center for Forensic Services at Western State Hospital (WSH) and the Washington State Department of Social and Health Services (DSHS).

Throughout his career, his leadership qualities have been evident, as demonstrated by his role as the Director of the WSH Postdoctoral Fellowship Committee from 2010 to 2018. Prior to joining Antioch University Seattle, he served as a Clinical Associate Professor at the University of Washington School of Medicine, Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences. His passion for teaching led him to instruct law courses, including evidence, legal procedures, and family law, at the University of California, Irvine for more than 15 years.
