

Introducing Double Duty Meat Display Cases: Revolutionizing Fresh Meat Storage

Marc Refrigeration offer a wide variety of open deli display cases, Produce cases, curved glass fish display cases & Bakery Cases designed to protect the food items.

Coral Springs, Florida Jul 8, 2024 (Issuewire.com) - In a breakthrough for the meat industry, Marc Refrigeration proudly announces the launch of its innovative double-duty meat display cases. These state-of-the-art cases were developed to cater to the changing needs of meat retailers and grocery stores. These cutting-edge display cases offer unmatched versatility and efficiency in storing and showcasing fresh meats.

Historically, meat retailers have faced challenges with shelving and merchandising a wide variety of meats while also ensuring that meats do not spoil and maintain the cleanliness of the area. These display cases have solved all the challenges that were formerly associated with them. These modernized cases include two sections where one section can hold one kind of meat, and the next section can hold a different one without compromising on quality or freshness.

Key features of Double Duty Meat Display Cases

Dual Compartments— This area holds frozen and chilled meats, allowing the retailer to offer more options to meet customer needs.

Temperature Control— These sophisticated systems help monitor the temperatures in each compartment so that foods can be stored at the optimal temperature to enhance their longevity.

Hygienic Design— Easy access to worktops and fixtures with removable and adjustable shelves makes the cleaning process very convenient to adhere to standard hygiene requirements.

Energy Efficiency— New fridge designs conserve energy, making refrigeration systems friendly to the ecological environment and cutting retailers' costs.

Sleek Aesthetic— Modern style and available configurations help retailers improve the exterior appearances of their meats, entice shoppers, and boost sales.

With the advent of double-duty meat display cases, meat retailers are eyeing better and improved meat displays and improved customer satisfaction, which they can easily achieve with the innovation of the case.
