

Meet Mark Crye, MD: Director of Thoracic Surgery at Mohawk Valley Health System

Leading Thoracic Surgeon Joins MVHS Cardiothoracic Surgery Group to Enhance Minimally Invasive Procedures

New York City, New York Jul 11, 2024 (Issuewire.com) - Mohawk Valley Health System (MVHS) is proud to announce the appointment of Dr. Mark Crye, MD, as the new Director of Thoracic Surgery within the MVHS Cardiothoracic Surgery Group. Dr. Crye brings a wealth of experience and expertise in minimally invasive procedures of the chest, with a focus on robotic surgery and the treatment of lung and esophageal cancers.

Dr. Crye's impressive educational background includes a Bachelor of Science Degree in Biology from Syracuse University and a Doctor of Medicine from the State University of New York Upstate Medical University. He further honed his skills through a residency and fellowship in thoracic surgery at Allegheny Health Network Medical Education Consortium in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, completing his training in 2017.

Board certified in general surgery and thoracic and cardiac surgery by the American Board of Surgery, Dr. Crye is recognized for his proficiency in utilizing advanced technologies such as the da Vinci robotic surgical system for minimally invasive procedures. Prior to joining MVHS, he served as a thoracic surgical oncologist in collaboration with Upstate University Hospital and Crouse in Syracuse, New York, where he gained extensive experience in the surgical management of thoracic malignancies.

Dr. Crye's arrival at MVHS signifies a significant advancement in the hospital's capabilities to provide cutting-edge thoracic surgical care to the community. His expertise in minimally invasive techniques, coupled with his dedication to improving patient outcomes, will undoubtedly elevate the quality of thoracic surgical services offered at MVHS.
