

Patricia Prior, DVM, Lead Veterinarian and Medical Director at Shelton Veterinary Center

Providing Gold-Standard Veterinary Care with Stress-Free Animal Handling and Exceptional Client Communication

New York City, New York Jul 31, 2024 (IssueWire.com) - In the heart of Shelton, Connecticut, Dr. Patricia Prior, stands as the Medical Director of Shelton Veterinary Center, passionately leading a team dedicated to providing top-notch veterinary care.

With a focus on soft tissue surgery, ultrasound imaging, behavioral medicine, and emergency care, Dr. Prior's commitment to enhancing the human-animal bond shines through in every aspect of her work. She works closely with the local emergency hospital and board certified veterinary specialists to provide next level care and will take on emergency, life-saving surgeries at a lower cost to owners who could not otherwise afford it.

Dr. Prior's journey to becoming a renowned veterinarian started at Rutgers University, where she obtained a Bachelor of Science Degree in Veterinary and Laboratory Animal Science, coupled with a minor in Psychology. Her educational pursuits continued at St. George's University School of Veterinary Medicine, where she honed her skills and graduated in 2015 after a comprehensive clinical rotation at the esteemed Ohio State University.

Prior to her tenure at Shelton Veterinary Center, Dr. Prior accumulated eight years of invaluable experience practicing general medicine, surgery, and emergency care in New Jersey and central Connecticut. Throughout her career, she has collaborated with board-specialized veterinary surgeons, internists, and criticalists, further enriching her knowledge base and expertise in the field.

Dr. Prior's dedication to advancing the veterinary industry extends beyond her clinical practice. She has played a crucial role in training veterinary nurses and implementing the Fear Free program at multiple veterinary facilities, emphasizing the importance of minimizing stress for animals during their medical care. Her active involvement in professional organizations like the American Veterinary Medical Association and the Connecticut Veterinary Medical Association further underscore her commitment to promoting excellence within the industry.

Beyond her professional endeavors, Dr. Prior finds joy in a variety of hobbies, including reading, rock climbing, hiking, baking, and exploring different corners of the world, with her preferred destination being New Orleans. Her beloved pot hound, Olive, whom she adopted from Grenada in 2014, is a cherished companion who shares in her adventures.

With Dr. Patricia Prior at the helm, Shelton Veterinary Center continues to set a high standard for compassionate, comprehensive veterinary care in Shelton, Connecticut and beyond.
