

PL Beverage Enhances Beverage Production with Unmatched Flexibility and Quality

PL Beverage is a premier private label filling and service company specializing in the development and production of beverages in cans and PET water bottles.

Zug, Switzerland Jul 24, 2024 (IssueWire.com) - PL Beverage, a leading private label filling and service company, announces its commitment to revolutionizing beverage development and production. Specializing in the creation of high-quality beverages for cans and PET water bottles, PL Beverage stands out with its flexible and dynamic approach.

Operating on three core principles, PL Beverage offers a unique, customer-driven strategy that ensures both flexibility and quality from lab development to final distribution. The company's modular approach caters to diverse needs, whether for small-scale innovators seeking lab support or large enterprises in need of cost-efficient co-packing services.

With a production capacity exceeding 250 million fills per year, PL Beverage's state-of-the-art facility in Germany is capable of manufacturing all can sizes and PET water bottles. The company's product portfolio includes multiple packaging options, an in-house water source, and access to an advanced laboratory facility. Utilizing high-quality water from its own source, PL Beverage employs pressurized tanks, high-tech CIP mixing facilities, and tunnel pasteurizing techniques on its four modern filling lines (Krones) to ensure the highest standards of production.

Since 2007, PL Beverage has built a reputation for quality, precision, and customer satisfaction. The company consistently monitors CO2 levels, Brix levels, pH balance, stability, and vitamin content to meet the highest standards.
