Why Invest Now? Building Wealth for your financial freedom.

The Indian market presents a compelling opportunity for long-term investors.

Here's a glimpse of the positive trends:

Robust Economic Growth: India's GDP is projected to grow at a healthy pace, with estimates suggesting it could become the world's third-largest economy by 2027. This economic expansion translates to growth potential for businesses operating in India. India's GDP surged by an impressive 4.1 percentage points to 8.4% in Q3 FY24 compared to the same quarter in the previous fiscal year. This indicates a strong economic performance.

- Make in India Boost: The government's "Make in India" initiative is attracting significant foreign investment and bolstering domestic manufacturing. This creates a fertile ground for companies that stand to benefit from this campaign.

- Rising Consumer Spending: India's growing middle class is driving a surge in consumer spending, which can fuel the growth of consumer-oriented businesses.

- Market Maturity: The Indian stock market, as measured by indices like Nifty and Sensex, has shown impressive growth over the past decade. Figure 1.1

As you see in above table 1.1, both Sensex and Nifty have experienced significant growth over the past 10 years. Sensex has nearly quadrupled in value, and Nifty has more than tripled. This trend indicates a maturing market environment attractive to both Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs) and Domestic Institutional Investors (DIIs).

- Retail Investor Participation: Interestingly, retail investor participation in the Indian stock market has also increased significantly, showcasing growing confidence in the market's potential. According to a recent report by Motilal Oswal, the total number of Demat accounts in India surged to a record high of 154 million by the end of April 2024. This represents a significant increase from just around 4 crores in March 2020.
- IPO Boom: The number of new Initial Public Offerings (IPOs) has witnessed a significant rise in recent years, offering investors opportunities to participate in the growth journey of promising companies.

Fueled by a surge in IPOs (234 in 2023, a 56% increase over 2022), investor confidence reached new heights in the Indian capital markets.
