"Visitor IQ embodies what our company stands for - innovative and results-focused digital marketing," said Greg Whitlow, CEO of Digital 55. "It's more than just website traffic data. It's about converting that traffic into real business leads, gaining the insights needed to grow their businesses, and connecting with customers in a whole new way. This service will be a game-changer for our clients, helping them achieve marketing goals and boost profits."

The launch of Visitor IQ aligns perfectly with Digital 55's summer promotion of the first 30 days free, allowing businesses to access advanced lead generation services with reduced financial risk.

Early Success Story: An early Visitor IQ client, a leading retailer of lubrication products, leveraged this service in conjunction with a Pay-Per-Click (PPC) campaign to achieve remarkable results.
