Sarah Anne McCracken Jewelry, an NYC-based brand, is excited to introduce its debut collection—a minimalist line thoughtfully crafted primarily from sterling silver and accented with carefully selected pearls. Each piece reflects Sarah Anne’s commitment to creating at a slower, more intentional pace, focusing on wearability without compromising artistic exploration.

With a BA in Jewelry from the Birmingham School of Jewellery and an MA in Accessories, Sarah Anne brings extensive experience to her brand, having worked with renowned fashion houses such as Montblanc, Kering Eyewear (McQ by Alexander McQueen and Stella McCartney), Tory Burch, and Proenza Schouler. Now, Sarah Anne channels her expertise into creating jewelry that blends artistic intent with everyday elegance, all while emphasizing quality craftsmanship.

Her first collection is designed for women who value individuality and timeless style, offering pieces that stand out without following fleeting trends—perfect for those who want something truly unique and personal
