

Stephanie Kube, DVM, DACVIM (Neurology), Leads Advanced Veterinary Specialty Center Of New England Towards Excellence

Board Certified Veterinary Neurologist/Neurosurgeon Prioritizes Personalized Care and Collaboration for Optimal Pet Health

New York City, New York Aug 26, 2024 (IssueWire.com) - Dr. Stephanie Kube, DVM, DACVIM (Neurology), wears many hats as a board-certified veterinary neurologist/neurosurgeon, pain specialist, and rehab practitioner. As the passionate owner and current medical director of the Advanced Veterinary Specialty Center of New England in Walpole, Massachusetts, she brings a wealth of expertise and dedication to her role, driving excellence in specialized veterinary care.

With a passion for providing personalized care to pets and their owners, Dr. Kube works to provide a personalized experience at her practice, no matter which specialist you see. She believes that every pet/owner wanting a specialist should have one within their reach and not wait for months to be seen, or only talk to emergency doctors while the specialists are making recommendations in the back.

Having graduated from Colorado State University with a Doctor of Veterinary Medicine Degree in 2000, Dr. Kube's extensive training includes a small animal rotating internship at VCA West Los Angeles Animal Hospital, an internship in neurosurgery at the University of Georgia, and a residency in neurology/neurosurgery at UC Davis. This path led her to become a Diplomate of the American College of Veterinary Internal Medicine (Neurology) in 2005. Among her impressive credentials, Dr. Kube holds certifications as a Certified Veterinary Pain Practitioner (CVPP) and a Certified Canine Rehabilitation Therapist (CCRT).

Dr. Kube's influence extends beyond her practice, as she actively participates in various organizations and councils, working hard to give back to her community. In her volunteer roles, she has been an Ambassador to the New England Aquarium, on the Advisory Board of Zoo New England, Massachusetts Board of Registration in Veterinary Medicine. Dr. Kube is also a founding member of the Veterinary Neurosurgical Society and has been engaged in numerous veterinary associations, including the American College of Veterinary Internal Medicine, the American Academy of Pain Management, the American Academy of Regenerative Medicine, the International Veterinary Academy of Pain Management, the American Veterinary Medical Association, the Massachusetts Veterinary Medical Association, and the American Association of Rehabilitation Veterinarians demonstrating her commitment to advancing the field of veterinary medicine.

Dr. Kube's dedication to learning and sharing knowledge is evident through her regional, national, and international lectures, as well as multiple publications on pain management, rehabilitation, and neurology. Dr. Kube's unwavering dedication to advancing veterinary medicine ensures that pets under her care receive the highest standard of treatment and compassion.
