

New DIY website provider supports education for teens and young adults

The image is a promotional graphic for Webwowzer. At the top, the word "WEBWOWZER!" is written in large, bold, orange and blue letters, with a globe icon integrated into the letter 'O'. Below this, the text "The Simple DIY Website Builder" is written in white, followed by "Build Your Own E-Commerce Store!" in a smaller, blue font. At the bottom, there are ten circular icons arranged in a row, each representing a different industry. From left to right, the icons and their labels are: 1. Entertainment Venues (a person in a red jacket), 2. Construction Services (a person in a yellow safety vest), 3. Sign Service Installation (a sign that says "this must be the place"), 4. Educators Teachers (a person at a desk), 5. Artists Galleries (a person in a gallery), 6. Actors Film (a person holding a clapperboard), 7. Fitness Retail (a person in a gym), 8. Mechanics Auto Body (a person working on a car).

Gainesville, Virginia Sep 15, 2024 (Issuewire.com) - Webwowzer, Inc. is excited to announce the launch of its new platform, designed to help anyone create a professional website with easy features for a simple website build. About Webwowzer.com:

Founded in 2021, Webwowzer.com is a Virginia-based company that offers an all-in-one website building platform with a focus on ease of use, professional design, and e-commerce functionality. The company aims to empower users while supporting social initiatives that provide educational opportunities to underprivileged teens and young adults.

Webwowzer.com will grow with the hopes of giving back to our communities within the United States in order to bring educational dreams back to our youth. Whether that dream would be of attending vocational, community college, or a specialty school such as Film or CGI school in order to land the job of their dreams.

The founder of Webwowzer, Inc., James Dempsey, is a veteran of the United States Naval Squadron VA-122 of NAS Lemoore and a successful educated musician, a former RCA Records session and touring artist, and recently inducted in the Las Vegas Rock Hall of Fame, knows that dreams never die. James states, "Webwowzer.com wants to help those young dreamers to succeed and obtain the knowledge for their dream job and to help folks succeed with a website to represent their online presence. We may not be the biggest, but we will continue to expand for years to come. As a new subscription based company, we will be reviewing investor offers as we begin to grow and expand towards an international market and to grow our scholarship fund. This is my dream."
