

The Broken Ravens Cooking Up a Storm with 'Pay God'

The five-piece heavy metal band The Broken Ravens has released their new track 'Pay God' which has been indulging the metal fans like never before.

Stornoway, Sep 27, 2024 (Issuewire.com) - The world of heavy metal and rock genre has always gifted the audience with legendary bands like Black Sabbath, Alice in Chains, Metallica, and Mastodon, and inspired by them, a new age heavy metal band has been working to take the world with their guitar raged storm. The Broken Ravens is a five-piece band who has released their new track called 'Pay God'. Hailing from the Western Isles of Scotland, the love for the gritty, anthemic, and unadulterated heavy metal genre is clear with the new track of the band.

The new track called 'Pay God' has a ravaging and head-banging vibe to it. The growls and the controlled screams feel like a gateway to a new world of music that the world has not seen yet. The fans are going gaga over the new track by The Broken Ravens and the credit for this masterpiece is bound to go to all of the five members of the band as the track is written by Calum Murdo MacAulay, Derek Healey, Gordon Smith, John Murdo Ferguson, and Kevin Thomas Clark. All of the five members have contributed equally to make this track a masterpiece of its own kind. Apart from the latest hit tracks, this band has created some of the most enticing and engaging heavy metal songs that are out there.

Some of the tracks by the band are 'Black Atlas', 'Old Cast Crow', 'Lights Out In Vienna' and 'Black Knuckle Ride'. Recently they finished a run of dates in the U.S. playing Las Vegas, Anaheim, and Santa Monica and they are finishing up to full houses in the world-famous Rainbow Bar and Grill and Whisky A Go Go on Hollywood's legendary Sunset Strip. Good news for fans, because the band is scheduled for an upcoming show in Glasgow-Audio, on Sunday, 24th November.
