The service, marking the 30th anniversary of the Cheongju Church, was not only attended by local members but also drew in the faithful from Seoul, southern Gyeonggi, and across the country, including over 100 Protestant pastors eager to hear Chairman Lee's profound sermon on the teachings of Revelation.

The outpouring of devotion was evident from the early hours, as members lined the 4-kilometer stretch leading to Cheongju Church, eager to welcome Chairman Lee. Known for his clear explanation of the Book of Revelation according to what he has seen and heard, Chairman Lee's teachings resonate deeply with believers who, like one congregant expressed, feel a profound gratitude for learning truths they've never encountered elsewhere. This message has not only captivated church members but also drawn significant attention from outside observers, reflecting a growing recognition of Shincheonji's teachings.

In his sermon, Chairman Lee spoke of the unique role of Shincheonji Church in presenting the realities of the prophecies of Revelation, urging members to be humble and share these truths with others. "We must have faith that is 100% in harmony with this Word, and that is to become one with God," he stated, highlighting the church's mission to align with God's will and make known the fulfillment of biblical prophecies. His message of unity and truth resonated deeply with attendees, including the many Protestant pastors who joined the service to gain insight into Shincheonji's teachings.
