

DrChrono by EverHealth Partners with OutcomeMD to Deliver Real-World Patient Insights to Doctors within their EHR

OutcomeMD partnered with DrChrono by EverHealth to integrate patient-reported outcome surveys into DrChrono's EHR, enabling real-time tracking of patient progress and improving engagement, treatment adherence, and health outcomes in value-based care.

West Hollywood, California Dec 19, 2024 (Issuewire.com) - OutcomeMD, a leader in symptom and outcome tracking software, has joined forces with pioneering EHR platform DrChrono by EverHealth (DrChrono), an EverCommerce (NASDAQ: EVCM) solution, to revolutionize patient care. This groundbreaking partnership integrates OutcomeMD's patient-reported outcome surveys seamlessly into DrChrono's comprehensive EHR system, empowering healthcare providers across multiple specialties with real-time, data-driven insights.

The partnership addresses a critical gap in healthcare delivery: the lack of continuous patient engagement and real-world data throughout the care journey. By enabling clinicians to track patient progress remotely and in real-time, this integration promises to enhance patient-doctor connectivity, improve treatment adherence, and ultimately drive better health outcomes.

This collaboration reinforces EverHealth's commitment to advancing healthcare delivery through timely, real-world data. OutcomeMD boasts unparalleled user engagement, excelling as the only solution in its class to integrate across the full spectrum of medical specialties supported by DrChrono.

"We're ushering in a new era of data-driven healthcare," said Hooman Fakki, Chief Strategy Officer at OutcomeMD. "This partnership will enable providers to harness real-world patient data more effectively, transforming how healthcare is delivered and experienced."

This partnership aligns with the growing focus on value-based care and patient-reported outcomes in healthcare, positioning EverHealth and DrChrono at the forefront of healthcare innovation.

EverHealth's Market Leader of General & Specialty Care, Matt Madden, noted of the partnership "The DrChrono by EverHealth and OutcomeMD partnership enhances patient care by integrating patient-reported outcomes into the DrChrono EHR, allowing for data-driven decision-making, improved patient engagement, and more efficient workflows. Our partnership helps to support personalized care plans, compliance with quality reporting standards, and ultimately, better patient outcomes."

The integration is now available to all DrChrono users, offering them a powerful new tool to enhance patient care and outcomes. For more information about the partnership and how it can benefit healthcare providers, please visit www.outcomemd.com or www.drchrono.com.
