

Fadi Dinha: The Comedian Who Doesn't Apologize

He speaks three languages, but comedy is his true universal language

Los Angeles, California Oct 19, 2024 (IssueWire.com) - In a world where every joke seems to come with a backlash, Fadi Dinha isn't afraid to go there. The 26-year-old Swedish comedian has amassed a devoted following, thanks to his sharp wit and willingness to poke fun at just about anything. "I don't do it to be edgy," Dinha says. "I just think the stuff I find funny happens to be controversial. Look at my influences—Family Guy, Chappelle, Louis CK, Pryor. That's the comedy I grew up on."

Dinha's rise hasn't been conventional. Growing up in Gothenburg to an Assyrian family, he didn't have a comedy scene to look up to. "It wasn't something people did," he recalls. "So I didn't talk about it much." That didn't stop him from teaching himself English through videos and eventually moving to New York, where he pursued his passion.

These days, Dinha's a fixture on social media, with over 600,000 followers, and he's making his mark with a lead role in the upcoming Choice Dude. "I sent in an audition as this chain-smoking, sarcastic guy, and they loved it so much they rewrote the character" he laughs.

While Dinha's exploring acting, his real love remains stand-up. "I just want to get on stage and make people laugh," he says. "Everything else—Twitch, acting, the podcast—it's all about strengthening that comedy muscle."

Through his fluency in Swedish, English, and Chaldean, Fadi Dinha crafts jokes with impeccable timing and razor-sharp wit. His success on Tiktok and The Fadi Show podcast has led critics to call him "a rising force in international comedy," with his act praised for its unique global perspective. Dinha's recent leap into acting has also earned him high marks, with one critic noting that "his performance in Choice Dude brings the same fearless energy that makes his stand-up so captivating."
