Transforming Lives Through Expert Surgical Care at Methodist Health System

New York City, New York Oct 23, 2024 (Issuewire.com) - Methodist Health System proudly announces the continued dedication of Joseph F. Buell, MD, MBA, as a senior hepatobiliary surgeon and surgical oncologist. With extensive experience and expertise in the field, Dr. Buell plays a pivotal role in the HPB and Complex GI Surgical Fellowships at Methodist Health System, continuing his affiliation with Methodist Richardson Medical Center and Methodist Richardson Cancer Center.

Dr. Buell's practice encompasses surgery of the liver, pancreas, biliary ducts, and complex abdominal wall and gastrointestinal tract problems. He is renowned for his specialization in minimally invasive and robotic approaches to treating both benign and malignant liver tumors, making significant strides in patient care and surgical techniques.

A distinguished graduate of the University of Rochester School of Medicine and Dentistry, Dr. Buell completed his training at the University of Maryland, followed by fellowships in surgical oncology at the National Institutes of Health and in multiorgan transplant and hepatobiliary surgery at the University of Chicago. He is a Diplomate of the American Board of Surgery and an active member of several prestigious medical organizations, including the American College of Surgeons, the Americas Hepato-Pancreato-Biliary Association, the International Hepato-Pancreato Biliary Association, the International Laparoscopic Liver Society, and the Central Surgical Association.

Throughout his career, Dr. Buell has led numerous university transplant programs and actively engaged in basic science and translational research, funded by various societies and the federal government. He is recognized as a leader in minimally invasive liver surgery, robotics, and complex abdominal wall reconstruction, further underscoring his impact on surgical practices.

With over 20 years as a full professor, Dr. Buell has significantly contributed to the medical community by lecturing and performing surgeries in over 20 countries worldwide. Since 2024, he has also served as a Professor of Surgery at the Burnett School of Medicine at Texas Christian University in Fort Worth, Texas. His commitment to education and training future surgeons is evident in his extensive experience and dedication to the field.

Dr. Buell credits his success to the unwavering support of his family and his faith in God. With a remarkable portfolio, he has authored over 250 manuscripts and 19 book chapters. His contributions to the field have earned him numerous accolades, including the prestigious American Cancer Society Award, the Golden Apple Award, the Young Investigator Award, and the Kentucky Congressional Award, among others.

Dr. Buell's dedication to his profession is matched by his personal passions. His favorite vacation destination is the stunning island of Bora Bora, known for its breathtaking scenery and tranquil atmosphere. When he's not exploring beautiful locales, Dr. Buell enjoys a variety of hobbies and sports, which keep him active and engaged. Additionally, he is an avid reader of professional publications, particularly the Annals of Surgery, which keeps him informed about the latest advancements and research in his field.
