Tres Chic Events proudly announces the One Vision, Many Hands Art Exhibit, a vibrant celebration of Haitian culture, community, and creativity. The two-day event will feature a diverse lineup of artists and artisans committed to telling compelling stories through their works. Attendees will enjoy visual art, cultural exchange, and charitable engagement, with a portion of the proceeds benefiting Project Saint-Anne (PSA Haiti), a nonprofit focused on empowering Haitian youth through education.

Event Highlights:

Opening Reception: November 2, 2024, at 5:00 PM, providing opportunities to meet the artists and connect over light refreshments.

Featured Artists: Talented individuals such as Mario Aristene, Osee Hermantin, Dimitri Beaulieu, Joane Buteau Dumont, Tara Boirard, Samuel Augustin and Presler Decilon, and more will showcase works inspired by Haitian history, migration, and social justice themes.

Poetry Reading: Gino Béance will present selections from his latest collection, Symphonie de ma jeunesse.

Mission and Goals:

The One Vision, Many Hands Art Exhibit serves as more than an art show—it is a platform to:

1. Promote Haitian Culture: The exhibit highlights the beauty, resilience, and rich heritage of Haiti through various artistic expressions.
2. Support Underserved Communities: Proceeds will benefit PSA Haiti, aligning with the shared goal of fostering education and development in Camp-Perrin, Haiti.
3. Foster Artistic Growth: By featuring emerging and established artists, the exhibit offers exposure within a network of collectors and cultural institutions.
4. Build Community Connections: Art will serve as a bridge, encouraging dialogue and meaningful interactions between attendees and artists.
5. Increase Awareness for PSA Haiti: The exhibit will shine a spotlight on PSA Haiti's efforts through promotional materials, social media, and media coverage.

A Shared Vision of Impact

Through this event, Tres Chic Events aims to broaden awareness of Haitian culture and the importance of supporting education through art. Participating artists are not only sharing their talents but also contributing to the empowerment of youth in Haiti. This collective effort reflects the exhibit's mission: to leave a legacy of cultural pride, artistic innovation, and community-driven support.

"We believe in the transformative power of art, both as a means of personal expression and as a force for positive change," says Karine Adrien-Guirand, organizer of the event. "This exhibit brings together artists and communities to inspire, connect, and make a lasting impact."
