Apopka, Florida Nov 11, 2024 (Issuewire.com) - Hackers Infiltrate Carina Esthetics and Nail Geek Websites: Legal Action Underway

Carina Brooks King, owner of Carina Esthetics and the mobile beauty business Nail Geek, has become the latest target of an organized cyberattack. Hackers from St. Lucia and Atlanta have taken over both websites, causing significant disruptions for her businesses. Authorities have been contacted, and legal action is now underway to bring those responsible to justice.

Initial investigations point to a hacker known as “BRAD L,” who is alleged to be behind the security breach. Law enforcement is working diligently to identify and apprehend those involved, promising full prosecution to the maximum extent of the law.

“I am committed to restoring my business websites and ensuring a secure experience for my clients,” said Carina Brooks King. “This attack not only violates my rights as a business owner but also affects the trust my clients place in me. I am grateful to the authorities for their swift response and will cooperate fully to bring these hackers to justice.”

As Carina Esthetics and Nail Geek work to restore their online presence, clients and partners are advised to use only verified communication channels. Further updates will be shared as they become available.
