

Christine Fechter, MSN, APRN, AGPCNP-C, Recognized as a Rising Star in Medicine for 2024

Celebrating Excellence in Advanced Practice Nursing and Clinical Informatics

New York City, New York Nov 7, 2024 (Issuewire.com) - Christine Fechter, MSN, APRN, AGPCNP-C, has been named one of “The Rising Star Women of Medicine for 2024” by Women We Admire. This prestigious recognition highlights Christine’s significant contributions to the field of advanced practice nursing, particularly in adult and gerontological care, as well as her commitment to palliative care.

Currently, Christine serves as the Regional Informatics PCP, Associate Director of Clinical Informatics, and Clinical COE/Physician Ed Training at ChenMed in Lakeland, Florida. Her multifaceted role underscores her dedication to enhancing patient care through innovative clinical informatics and education, ensuring that both patients and healthcare providers benefit from the latest advancements in medical technology.

Christine began her academic journey at Florida Gulf Coast University, earning a Bachelor of Science Degree in Geriatrics in 2008. She then pursued a Bachelor of Science in Nursing at Indiana State University, graduating in 2011. Her commitment to lifelong learning led her to complete a Master of Science in Nursing at Florida Southern College in 2016. Currently, she is furthering her expertise at the University of North Georgia, where she is on track to receive her Doctorate of Nursing Practice in 2025.

In addition to her clinical work, Christine is actively involved in professional organizations, including the Polk County Advanced Practice Nurses Association, the Florida Nurse Practitioner Network, the American Association of Nurse Practitioners, the American Nurses Association, the Florida Nurses Association, the United Advanced Practice Registered Nurses of Georgia, and the Florida Coalition of Advanced Practice Nurses. Her engagement in these associations reflects her commitment to advancing the nursing profession and advocating for the needs of patients, particularly in underserved populations.

As a dedicated nurse practitioner and advocate for geriatric care, Christine Fechter is a shining example of leadership and excellence in nursing. Her recognition as a Rising Star in Medicine serves as an inspiration to her peers and the next generation of healthcare professionals.
