

Daniel Volland, OD: Championing Eye Care and Community in Anchorage

Alaskan Optometrist and Community Leader

New York City, New York Nov 11, 2024 (Issuewire.com) - Dr. Daniel Volland is a licensed and board-certified optometric physician, and founder of Ursa Optical, a popular eye care practice in downtown Anchorage. Inspired by the Alaskan night sky and the constellation Ursa Major, Dr. Volland believes in the power of teamwork in eye care and community service, stating, “Just like it takes many stars to make up a constellation, good eye care is a team effort.”

With a Bachelor's Degree in Biology from Pacific Lutheran University and a Doctor of Optometry Degree from Pacific University College of Optometry, Dr. Volland also has extensive experience in delivering rural eye care across Alaska. He has traveled to over 30 Alaskan communities, providing essential eye care services in schools, laundromats, bingo halls, and more, demonstrating his commitment to accessibility in healthcare.

In addition to his work as an optometrist, Dr. Volland is a dedicated community leader. He currently serves in his local government on the Anchorage Assembly. His involvement in the business community was recognized when he was awarded the 2021 "Anchorage Young Professional of the Year" by the Anchorage Chamber's Young Professional Group and as one of Alaska's "Top 40 Under 40" by the Alaska Journal of Commerce. As a member of the Anchorage East Rotary Club, Dr. Volland has helped coordinate the Mobile Food Pantry in partnership with the Alaska Food Bank at the Fairview Community Recreation Center.

Outside of his professional endeavors, Dr. Volland enjoys exploring the natural beauty of Alaska through activities such as packrafting, backcountry ice-skating, skiing, and walking his dog, Juniper, along the Coastal Trail.
