

Logatot Welcomes Aleisha Gibbons as Co-CEO to Support CEO Amanda Goodwin Through Cancer Recovery

Logatot empowers child care providers by reducing time spent on compliance tasks through voice-command technology, allowing professionals to focus on delivering quality care and nurturing meaningful relationships.

Cape Coral, Florida Dec 2, 2024 (IssueWire.com) - Logatot, child care's first voice-to-data technology, announces Aleisha Gibbons as Co-CEO as Amanda Goodwin, CEO and cancer warrior, begins treatment with an optimistic outlook. This transition brings stability and renewed strength to Logatot's mission to simplify compliance for child care providers.

"Amanda's resilience is inspiring," said Aleisha Gibbons. "Her doctors are optimistic, and I'm honored to continue her legacy, ensuring Logatot grows and remains a trusted partner to child care providers. We're committed to supporting and empowering these essential professionals in their vital work."

With over a decade in business leadership, marketing, and brand strategy, Aleisha's dedication to elevating meaningful work aligns deeply with Logatot's vision. Her expertise and values make her an ideal partner to help lead Logatot during Amanda's recovery.

"Under Amanda's leadership, Logatot has achieved extraordinary strides, from vision to fundraising," said John Miller, Co-Founder and COO of Logatot. "Aleisha's shared passion and expertise make her the ideal leader to uphold our mission and support Amanda's return."

Logatot is dedicated to transforming compliance management through innovative technology, helping child care providers spend more time on what matters most—the children in their care. Join us in building a future where caregivers can focus entirely on their essential work.
