

The Greatest Music Distribution Ever!

Baghead Music Distribution: Revolutionizing the Music Industry with a Unique Approach!

Savannah, Georgia Nov 21, 2024 (Issuewire.com) - Baghead Music Distribution, an independent music distribution company founded by Quincy Seymore, popularly known as "Baghead Factz," is making waves in the music industry with its artist-friendly approach and innovative strategies.

Quincy Seymore has been a driving force in the music industry, shaping the careers of numerous artists across various genres, including hip-hop, R&B, pop, and alternative. Despite not yet achieving mainstream recognition, Seymore's contributions have been immense. Growing up in Savannah, Seymore received a scholarship to run track but chose to travel the United States and later joined the Marines before venturing into the music industry. His journey has seen him work as a manager and consultant for multiple artists, lending his expertise and industry knowledge to help them navigate the intricacies of the business.

In 2019, Seymore founded Baghead Distribution, which launched in 2020. The platform has since become a significant force in the industry, offering a more artist-friendly alternative to major labels. Baghead's mission is to provide musicians with control over their music and higher royalties. With a one of a kind referral system that allows artist to receive a percentage of distribution on behalf of Baghead for any artist they refer. The company's unique approach combines an old-school boots-to-the-ground strategy with social media promotion, particularly on Instagram and TikTok. With a concentration on teaching artist the business side of the industry. This focus on emerging artists and a tailor-made approach to each release has helped boost visibility and drive streaming numbers.

Deonte, a seasoned audio engineer, entrepreneur, and IT specialist from Savannah, GA, brings a wealth of experience to Baghead Distribution. At just 14, Deonte established his first home studio, recording local artists. After serving in the U.S. Army and earning IT specialist certification, he expanded his skill set by teaching himself graphic design and mastering artist promotion and marketing. In 2017, he founded Ensophoria, a professional recording and mixing studio in Washington State. Currently, as the Chief Technology Officer of Baghead Distribution, Deonte continues to mix music while empowering artists with the resources needed for their success in the industry.

Shala "1st Lady" Holmes, a South Carolina native raised in California, brings a rich blend of musical influences to the industry. Mentored by iHeartRadio executives early in her career, she became a key figure in the Southeast's music scene. In 2019, she joined Coalition DJs Carolina as Executive Advisor, providing essential organizational support and DJ guidance. Currently, she serves as Program Director for Rebel 107.9 in Charlotte, NC, leading the station through its post-launch phase with global attention on iHeartRadio. Holmes' diverse experience reflects her commitment to shaping the future of music and empowering the DJ community.

Baghead Music Distribution offers a range of services, including marketing, branding, and radio placement, providing artists with the tools they need to thrive independently. The company's personalized approach to artist management has earned it a reputation as a valuable resource for artists looking to succeed in the industry.

As the music industry continues to evolve, Baghead Music Distribution and its team of experts, including Quincy Seymore, Deonte, and Shala Holmes, are poised to play an increasingly significant role in shaping the future of independent music distribution.
