

xDeck Gacha Agency launches official website

Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia Nov 7, 2024 (Issuewire.com) - xDeck Gacha Agency, the first gachatuber management agency in the world, has opened it's official website at <https://xdeck.online> in order to offer it's free services to all gachatubers, including allowing gachatubers free access to it's contracted co-working spaces worldwide, providing professional voice acting services for gacha series directors, and even allowing access to airport lounges worldwide to gacha users. Live chat is also enabled so that gacha users can contact xDeck directly with ease without using any social media.

With xDeck, gachatubers will be able to access world class support while doing what they love and building up the gacha community. xDeck is a group of gachatubers themselves that provide free of charge services and support to new or experienced gachatubers.

Having been founded in 2018, the gacha community has been seen as not just a fandom, but also a worldwide family of gacha creators, most of which are often children and teens, although many adults have since joined it's ranks. The gacha community creates a variety of content using the Gacha Life, Gacha Club, and Gacha Life 2 apps developed by Lunime Inc, such as Gacha Mini Movies, Gacha Series, Gacha Music Videos, Gacha Memes, and more. While the gacha community is generally a non professional, amateur creator community, it has significantly upped the ante, with it's members requiring better, world class support and security against various cybercriminals that vie for the big channels of gachatubers. xDeck strives to be a nonprofit that provides world class level yet free support to all gachatubers free of charge in order to advance the gacha community.
