

F. Curtis Bryan, MD, FACS, FACC, FCCP: A Leader in Cardiothoracic Surgery at Florida Medical Clinic Orlando Health

Bringing Over 20 Years of Expertise in Heart Valve Surgery, Coronary Bypass, and Advanced Cardiac Procedures to Enhance Patient Care in St. Petersburg, Florida proudly announces the addition of F. Curtis Bryan, MD, FACS, FACC, FCCP, to its esteemed team of healthcare professionals. Dr. Bryan is a board-certified cardiothoracic surgeon with an extensive background and a deep commitment to advancing cardiac care. With over two decades of experience in the field, he specializes in various surgical procedures, including heart valve repair and replacement, percutaneous valve therapies, surgery for electrical heart disorders, coronary artery bypass grafting, and the removal of cardiac masses.

Dr. Bryan's academic journey began with coursework in aerospace science at Tennessee State University and neurobiology at Harvard University in 1982. He later earned a Bachelor's Degree, summa cum laude, from Vanderbilt University School of Arts and Sciences in 1984. His pursuit of medical excellence culminated in a Doctor of Medicine Degree from Emory University School of Medicine in 1988.

Following his graduation, Dr. Bryan completed his residencies in general surgery and cardiothoracic surgery at Emory University Affiliated Hospitals in Atlanta, where he excelled as the administrative chief resident in cardiothoracic surgery and chief resident in general surgery. His dedication to the field was further exemplified during his fellowship in cardiothoracic surgery and a research fellowship at the Carlyle-Fraser Heart Center. Additionally, he is a proud graduate of the prestigious Harvard Medical School Surgical Leadership Program.

Dr. Bryan is an esteemed Diplomate of the American Board of Thoracic Surgery (ABTS) and is board-certified in both thoracic and cardiac surgery. Prior to joining Florida Medical Clinic Orlando Health, he held various significant roles in the healthcare sector. From 2021 to 2022, he served as the Medical Director of Clinical Support and Cardiovascular Care at AdventHealth Medical Group, contributing to advancements in surgical practices. His previous roles also include serving as an attending staff surgeon and contributing to the structural heart valve program with the West Florida Division of HCA.

Dr. Bryan is a distinguished Fellow of several prestigious medical organizations, including the American College of Surgeons (FACS), the American College of Cardiology (FACC), and the American College of Chest Physicians (FCCP). His professional affiliations further extend to key societies in his field, such as the Society of Thoracic Surgeons, the Southern Thoracic Surgical Association, the South Atlantic Cardiovascular Society, the Florida Society of Thoracic and Cardiovascular Surgeons, and the Heart Valve Society of America. These memberships reflect his expertise and commitment to advancing cardiovascular and thoracic surgical care.

Throughout his illustrious career, Dr. Bryan has garnered numerous accolades, including being recognized among America's Top Doctors and a Top Doctor in Florida. His expertise in cardiothoracic surgery earned him the distinction of America's Top Physicians by the Consumer Research Council between 2005 and 2006 and a Top Doctor in Thoracic and Cardiac Surgery with Castle Connolly from 2018 to 2023. Notably, he received the Heart to Heart Award and was named among America's Most Honored Doctors in 2022 and 2023, as well as the Top Doctors by Tampa Magazine in 2023.

Dr. Bryan's commitment to excellence also shines through his past achievements at Northside Hospital, where he proudly attained a prestigious three-star ranking from the Society of Thoracic Surgeons for both cardiac surgery and combined aortic valve and coronary bypass surgery.

In addition to his professional accolades, Dr. Bryan has a passion for athleticism, having completed the Ironman World Championship triathlon in Kona, Hawaii. This feat exemplifies his dedication and perseverance, qualities that he brings to his surgical practice.
