Specializing in Ergonomics, Musculoskeletal Disorders, and Employee Health and Wellness in the Corporate Setting

New York City, New York Dec 12, 2024 (Issuewire.com) - Boston, Massachusetts – Marie-Christine David, DO, MPH, an esteemed occupational preventive medicine physician, brings over twenty years of invaluable experience to the field of employee health and wellness. Currently serving as the Senior Physician and Medical Site Leader at P&G Gillette, Dr. David is committed to enhancing workplace environments through her expertise in ergonomics and musculoskeletal disorders.

In addition to her role at P&G Gillette, Dr. David holds the position of Medical Director of Global Grooming for Procter & Gamble and serves as an instructor in the Corporate Medicine rotation. Her dedication to advancing the field of occupational and environmental medicine extends to her position on the faculty at the prestigious Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health, where she plays a vital role in training the next generation of specialists who are a part of the Occupational & Environmental Medicine Residency Program.

Dr. David earned her Doctor of Osteopathic Medicine Degree from NYIT College of Osteopathic Medicine in 2004. She further honed her skills through a residency in family medicine at UPMC Medical Education/Williamsport Hospital (2005-2007), followed by a residency in public health and general preventive medicine at UMass Chan Medical School (2008-2010). Her extensive training culminated in a residency in occupational and environmental medicine at Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health (2010-2012). She is proud to be board-certified in public health and general preventive medicine by the American Board of Preventive Medicine.

Dr. David's influence extends beyond her clinical responsibilities as she serves as a Director of the New England College of Occupational and Environmental Medicine (NECOEM). This organization, a regional component of the American College of Occupational and Environmental Medicine (ACOEM), is dedicated to improving the health and safety of workers and communities. Through her leadership, Dr. David supports initiatives that provide clinical care, and professional education, and foster research to advance the specialty of occupational health.

With a passion for promoting employee health and wellness in corporate settings, Dr. David is a recognized leader in her field. Her commitment to improving workplace ergonomics and addressing musculoskeletal disorders has positioned her as an invaluable asset to organizations seeking to enhance their employee well-being.
