

UK's First Online Pharmacy to Combine Health and Lifestyle Coaching with Bespoke Compounded Medicines

Medicalmojo.co.uk, Southampton's first online pharmacy, is setting a new standard in healthcare as the UK's first online pharmacy to combine professional coaching services with bespoke compounded medicines.

West Midlands, United Kingdom Feb 4, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - Medicalmojo.co.uk: Southampton's and UK's First Online Pharmacy to Combine Health and Lifestyle Coaching with Bespoke Compounded Medicines

Medicalmojo.co.uk, Southampton's first online pharmacy, is setting a new standard in healthcare as the UK's first online pharmacy to combine professional coaching services with bespoke compounded medicines.

Since its launch on 15th September 2024, the platform has already been making waves in the healthcare sector, running successfully for over three months. Medicalmojo.co.uk offers a unique approach to healthcare by providing personalised services designed to meet each customer's unique healthcare needs.

Unlike traditional online pharmacies that focus solely on providing medication, Medicalmojo.co.uk stands out by offering a holistic healthcare experience. By partnering with Dr Sarah Thornton, a registered coach, and collaborating with APC Labs, Medicalmojo.co.uk is transforming the pharmacy experience.

Bespoke Compounding and Lifestyle Coaching Combination

The combination of bespoke compounded medications with coaching services allows customers to receive personalised health guidance alongside tailored prescriptions, making it easier to manage conditions, lose weight, and improve overall health.

“We are incredibly excited to be leading the way in personalised healthcare,” said Dr Sarah Thornton, Coaching Director of Medicalmojo.co.uk. “With the expertise of our coaching team and the bespoke compounding capabilities of APC Labs, we’re able to provide a fully customised approach to health, placing the individual’s needs at the heart of our service. This is the first platform of its kind in Southampton and the UK, and we’re thrilled to offer these services to our customers.”

Innovative Online Pharmacy Services

Medicalmojo.co.uk offers a wide range of services, including:

- Bespoke Compounding: In partnership with APC Labs, the pharmacy provides patients with individually tailored medications, ensuring that each customer’s specific health requirements are met with precision and care.
- Coaching Services: With Dr Sarah Thornton on board as Coaching Director, customers can access one-on-one coaching sessions to help them navigate their health journey, whether it involves managing a chronic condition, losing weight, or improving overall wellness.
- Convenient Online Access: Through a user-friendly platform, customers can easily access prescriptions, consultations, and health support from the comfort of their homes, ensuring both convenience and privacy.

The Benefits of Personalised Health

The integration of coaching with bespoke compounded medicines aims to offer a holistic approach to healthcare. By combining expert guidance with personalised treatments, Medicalmojo.co.uk helps customers address a variety of health concerns while also offering the emotional and practical support necessary for maintaining long-term health improvements.

“We’re not just about providing prescriptions,” added Dr Sarah Thornton. “Our goal is to support people through their entire healthcare journey. Whether it’s weight management, chronic condition management, or enhancing general well-being, we want to be there for our customers every step of the way, offering personalised advice and treatment.”

Quote from Leading Compounding Pharmacist Tahir Amin

Leading compounding pharmacist Tahir Amin shared his enthusiasm about the innovative approach of Medicalmojo.co.uk:

“Having a platform like Medicalmojo.co.uk is a game-changer for the UK. The country has been behind the US when it comes to the widespread use of compounding pharmacies, but this platform introduces the UK to the incredible benefits that compounded medications can offer. Tailored treatments and personalised prescriptions can make a world of difference for patients, and it’s exciting to see this model gaining traction in the UK.”

Introducing New Drug Delivery Technology from the US.

Medical Mojo is also pleased to announce that along with bespoke compounding, it is introducing new drug delivery technologies to the UK. Medical Mojo is the first company to introduce the transmucosal buccal film drug delivery system to the UK.

Chief clinical pharmacist, Mr Shazlee Ahsan said:

“We are incredibly excited about bringing this groundbreaking drug delivery technology to the UK. It’s a transmucosal buccal film with mucoadhesive and rapid dissolve technology. It’s a wafer-thin film that sticks to the inner side of your mouth and dissolves within two minutes. It’s a really useful way to get drugs into your system without having to pass through the stomach and liver. This means you get more drugs into the system without the side effects. So, it’s really useful for people who have difficulty swallowing, such as stroke victims. We are looking to develop this technology to help with administering poorly absorbed medicines and vitamins, like coenzyme Q10. “
