From unlock to trading and staking, BTB is moving into a broader ecosystem participation cycle.

Arlington, Washington Jun 21, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - As the digital asset industry continues to mature, competition is shifting from isolated trading services to a broader contest centered on ecosystem development, value capture, and long-term sustainability. As one of the world's leading digital asset trading platforms, BitTap continues to advance its global strategic expansion and, through product innovation, ecosystem development, and infrastructure upgrades, remains committed to delivering a more comprehensive digital asset service experience for users.

On June 15, 2026, the BTB ecosystem officially reached a major milestone—the BTB pre-market trading system has now gone live. At the same time, the VBTB unlocking campaign has also been launched, while the highly anticipated BTB Staking reward pool will officially open on June 20. This upgrade marks the BTB platform token system's formal entry into a more ecosystem-oriented development stage, and also means BTB is evolving from a single platform utility token into a core asset that connects trading, ecosystem, incentives, and value circulation.

From a Platform Token to an Ecosystem Hub

In the development of the digital asset industry, the value of platform tokens is undergoing profound change.

In the early stage, platform tokens mainly served basic functions such as fee discounts and event participation. As the industry has entered the era of ecosystem competition, platform tokens are gradually taking on a more important role in connecting users, the platform, and the broader ecosystem.

That is precisely BTB's positioning.

As an important part of the BitTap ecosystem, BTB not only carries the platform's user rights system, but also serves as a vital medium for ecosystem incentives. Through trading, unlocking, staking, and the continued rollout of more ecosystem use cases in the future, BTB is building a more complete value loop.

For users, holding BTB means more than holding a digital asset; it also means taking part in the process of BitTap's ecosystem construction and long-term development. For the platform, BTB is a key bridge connecting trading growth, user growth, and ecosystem growth.

Pre-Market Trading Goes Live, Accelerating Price Discovery

The newly launched BTB pre-market trading system provides the market with a more open and efficient price discovery mechanism.

Before entering full circulation, pre-market trading helps the market establish trading consensus in advance, providing a more robust reference for BTB's future market performance.

Industry experience shows that high-quality projects often succeed in aggregating market attention and community consensus during the pre-market stage, while real trading activity helps shape price expectations. When market attention, trading activity, and ecosystem participation rise in tandem, confidence in the project's future is further reinforced.

With BTB pre-market trading now officially open, more users are beginning to participate in the price discovery process, and market attention to BTB's ecosystem value continues to increase.

Notably, the trading volume generated in the pre-market phase will also be incorporated into the VBTB unlocking mechanism, giving users additional opportunities to participate in ecosystem building and value realization, thereby further strengthening the link between trading and the ecosystem.

On June 20, the BTB Staking Pool Officially Opens

If pre-market trading represents the market's initial consensus on BTB, then the BTB Staking reward pool, set to open on June 20, will further strengthen BTB's ecosystem absorption capacity and long-term value support.

The launch of the staking pool means BTB is no longer limited to being a trading-layer liquidity asset; instead, it is moving further into a value cycle of "trading — unlocking — staking — incentives." For early participants, this is not only the opening of a new window for ecosystem participation, but also an important validation of BTB's long-term value logic.

In the market, assets with true scarcity and differentiation are rarely defined by short-term hype. More often, they are recognized through clear use cases, sustained ecosystem absorption, and stable incentive mechanisms. BTB is advancing along exactly this path. From pre-market trading to the staking pool, from a rights-bearing token to a core ecosystem asset, its value boundary continues to expand.

Markets often use certain early price ranges as reference starting points. For assets with ecosystem scarcity, clear participation thresholds, and continuously expanding use cases, the value imagination that emerges as trading, staking, and ecosystem demand accumulate can be further amplified. What BTB is currently demonstrating is precisely this growth logic—driven by ecosystem development and magnified by consensus.

Security and Compliance as the Foundation for Long-Term Growth

In the face of a rapidly changing industry environment, BitTap has consistently upheld the principles of security, compliance, and transparency.

In recent years, the platform has continued to advance its global expansion, steadily improving its risk control systems, asset security systems, and operational service capabilities. Through more robust infrastructure development, BitTap provides a safe and reliable digital asset trading environment for users around the world.

Industry development has already shown that platforms capable of enduring market cycles require not only technological innovation, but also a long-term development philosophy.

BitTap understands that ecosystem value is not built on short-term market sentiment, but on sustained product development, user service, and ecosystem accumulation.

Therefore, whether it is BTB ecosystem development, global market expansion, or future product upgrades, BitTap will continue to pursue a long-term and steady development strategy.

June Upgrade Season: Witnessing a New Beginning for the BTB Ecosystem

The launch of BTB pre-market trading is a key component of BitTap's 2026 ecosystem upgrade plan.

From the launch of the VBTB unlocking mechanism, to the opening of the BTB staking reward pool on June 20, to the start of the pre-market trading market, a series of product and ecosystem initiatives are gradually forming a complete loop.

This not only represents a critical step forward in BTB ecosystem development, but also marks BitTap's continued evolution from a traditional trading platform into an ecosystem-driven digital asset platform.

Looking ahead, as more ecosystem use cases are opened and the global user base continues to grow, BTB will play an even more important role within the platform ecosystem, creating more opportunities for value growth for users.

A new beginning has begun.

BitTap warmly invites users around the world to join in BTB ecosystem development, witness the journey of deep integration between the platform token and the ecosystem, and embrace the new future of BTB and BitTap together.
