

Chingor More Njaprim, DNP, APRN, AGACNP-BC: Champion for Community Health and Empowerment in Massachusetts

Founder of DCM Health Services, PLLC, and Advocate for African and Minority Communities

New York City, New York Jan 2, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Chingor More Njaprim, DNP, CNP, AGACNP-BC, APRN, a distinguished nurse practitioner with over 21 years of experience in healthcare, is making significant strides in expanding access to healthcare services in Massachusetts. He is the CEO and Founder of DCM Health Services, PLLC, a clinic and urgent care center dedicated to expanding healthcare access within the community, as well as DCM Foundation, Inc., a nonprofit organization that supports healthcare, education, scientific research, business empowerment, and community development.

Dr. More, who holds a Doctorate in Nursing Practice from the College of Our Lady of the Elms, has dedicated his career to internal and hospital medicine. Currently, he serves as a Team Health Hospitalist Nurse Practitioner at Saint Vincent Hospital and Framingham Union Hospital - Metrowest Medical Center, a Tufts University School of Medicine affiliate. His extensive experience includes leadership roles at renowned institutions such as Brigham and Women's Hospital, Massachusetts General Hospital, Baystate Medical Center, and Vibra Hospital of Western Massachusetts.

In addition to his clinical work, Dr. More is a passionate advocate for community empowerment. He is Vice President and Co-Founder of the Massachusetts Organization of African Descendants (MOAD), where he works to empower the African and minority communities. His initiatives include addressing social and healthcare challenges such as mental health, counseling, and resource access. Through MOAD, Dr. More has fostered a coalition of over 200 African organizations to advocate for socio-economic and educational empowerment. He also leads impactful events like the New England African Business Expo, Worcester African Festival, and BIPOC civic empowerment programs.

Dr. More's commitment to community development extends beyond local initiatives. He actively supports Cameroonian groups in the USA and serves on the Board of Directors of the Cameroon Social Club (CAMSOC) in the MetroWest and New England area. His role as President of the Doctor's Professional Network allows him to connect healthcare professionals across disciplines, promoting education, research, book writing, and business networking opportunities.

Fluent in both English and French, Dr. More is dedicated to bridging cultural gaps and enhancing international healthcare collaborations through partnerships with global healthcare professionals. His efforts have not gone unnoticed; he has received prestigious awards, including the MOAD Mandela Spirit Award (2024) and the Best in Massachusetts Magazine's Top Doctors Award (2025).

As a visionary entrepreneur, researcher, and philanthropist, Dr. Chingor More Njaprim embodies the spirit of service and dedication to community health. His work continues to inspire others to join the cause of healthcare access and community empowerment, making his American dream a reality while uplifting those around him.
