Dr. Hamula's Expertise and Commitment to Patient Care Pave the Way for Advancements in Sports Medicine

New York City, New York Jan 20, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - An esteemed orthopedic surgeon and sports medicine specialist, Dr. Hamula delivers exceptional patient care at NewYork-Presbyterian Medical Group Queens. He has established himself as a leader in the field, combining his expertise in orthopedic surgery with a commitment to advancing sports medicine.

His impressive educational background includes a distinguished graduation from the Perelman School of Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania, followed by a rigorous residency in orthopedic surgery at New York University Langone Orthopedic Hospital. During his residency, he was honored as the executive chief resident and received the Ralph Lusk Senior Resident Teaching Award, showcasing his dedication to both patient care and medical education. His passion for service took him internationally, where he provided orthopedic relief in Haiti, reflecting his commitment to community and global health.

After completing his residency, Dr. Hamula further honed his skills through a prestigious fellowship in sports medicine at the Cedars-Sinai Kerlan-Jobe Institute in Los Angeles, California. This advanced training positioned him as an expert in treating sports-related injuries and enhancing performance for athletes at all levels.

In addition to his clinical work, he is actively engaged in research, contributing to the advancement of orthopedic knowledge through publications in renowned medical journals such as the American Journal of Sports Medicine, Journal of Arthroplasty, and Journal of Bone and Joint Surgery. His insights have been shared at numerous medical meetings, including those hosted by the Eastern Orthopedic Association and the American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons.

A dedicated mentor, Dr. Hamula is committed to guiding the next generation of medical professionals. He is an active member of several esteemed organizations, including the American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons and the American Orthopedic Society for Sports Medicine. His experience as a team physician for prominent organizations—including the United States Men's National Soccer Team, L.A. Galaxy, and L.A. Sparks—underscores his expertise in sports medicine and his ability to support athletes in achieving optimal health and performance.
