

Felipe Urdaneta, MD: A Passionate Advocate for Anesthesiology Education and Patient Care in Gainesville

Leading with Precision: Dr. Felipe Urdaneta's Anesthesia Excellence at UF Health

New York City, New York Jan 24, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - Gainesville, Florida - Felipe Urdaneta, MD, an esteemed Professor of Anesthesiology at the University of Florida College of Medicine, is making significant contributions to the field of anesthesiology, focusing on both patient care and the education of future anesthesiologists.

Since joining the University of Florida in 1999, Dr. Urdaneta has established himself as a leading academic anesthesiologist, working diligently at UF Health and the Malcom Randall Veterans Affairs (VA) Medical Center. His clinical focus is primarily in the cardiothoracic area, where he provides anesthesia care for adult patients and some pediatric cardiac cases, with a strong emphasis on perioperative echocardiography. Dr. Urdaneta's expertise in this specialized field is vital, as echocardiography plays a crucial role in assessing cardiac function before, during, and after surgery.

His medical journey began in Bogota, Colombia, where Dr. Urdaneta earned his Medical Degree from Colegio Mayor de Nuestra Señora del Rosario Facultad de Medicina. He then completed an internship at Fundacion Santa Fe de Bogota and a fellowship at the Hepatobiliary Disease Institute. His path led him to the United States, where he completed an anesthesiology residency and a cardiothoracic anesthesia fellowship at the University of Florida. In 2004, he further enhanced his qualifications by obtaining a Master of Science Degree in Medical Education.

In 2005, Dr. Urdaneta took a brief foray into private practice, opening the perioperative echocardiography service at North Florida Regional Medical Center. This experience solidified his passion for education, particularly in teaching the intricacies of difficult airway management. Recognizing his true calling, Dr. Urdaneta returned to UF in 2006, where he has since dedicated himself to nurturing the next generation of anesthesiologists.

His commitment to teaching excellence was recognized in 2010 when he received the prestigious Haven M. Perkins Teaching Award from the Department of Anesthesiology. This accolade underscores his dedication and impact as an educator, shaping the future of anesthesiology through mentorship and hands-on training.

Dr. Urdaneta remains a pivotal figure in the anesthesiology community, combining his clinical expertise with a fervent commitment to education. His work continues to enhance patient care and inspire countless medical professionals at UF and beyond.
