

Freedom Dental Partners continues to pioneer innovative Dental Partnership Platform model

New way of creating dental service organizations keeps control and financial reward with the dentist

Montclair, New Jersey Apr 17, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - After years of recruitment, planning, and raising capital, Freedom Dental Partners recently launched its second non-traditionally structured dental service organization using a new model for bringing dental practices together and enabling dentist owners to take on an entrepreneurial role.

And they are very excited to do it again.

“Freedom Dental is built on a passion for keeping dentists at the center of the organizations we build and the decisions we make,” explains Freedom CEO, Avi Weisfogel. “We are excited about what making this happen means for those involved - but also what it means for the future of the industry.”

Freedom’s first success story is a Virginia-based organization launched in spring of 2024 with 10 practices representing more than $3M in EBITDA. This organization is in the process of adding another six practices in 2025 worth an additional $3M.

Their most recent success saw the grouping of dozens of practices across ten states, accounting for more than $10M in EBITDA.

The process of building such complex and bespoke structures is complicated and includes phases of financial modeling, strategic consulting, and capital raising. But it begins in a very simple way.

“All of these doctors have met through our live events,” explains Weisfogel. “Nothing has been more effective in connecting like-minded dentists for this opportunity than putting them in person into a location together.”

“Data rooms; EBITDA analyses; Capitalization tables - There is a lot you need just to get started,” explains Freedom’s Vice President of Strategic Partnerships, Amy Aligo. “But the key factor we have to get right first is the human element - making sure doctors are focused on the same goals.”

In its completed state, a Dental Partnership Platform offers a dentist more autonomy to run their practice, while also eliminating costs, mitigating risks, and allowing the doctor to receive financial upside.

“Ultimately, this is about giving dentistry back to the dentists,” says Weisfogel.

To learn more about Freedom’s work in the area of Dental Partnership Platforms, schedule an interview or conversation with Avi Weisfogel. Email Avi@freedomdentalpartners.com.

Media Contact

Freedom Dental Partners

@freedomdentalpartners.com

973-640-0732

Source : Freedom Dental Partners

See on IssueWire