

Georgetown's Esteemed Internist, Michael Nacol, MD, Retires After Nearly Four Decades of Service

A Legacy of Compassionate Care and Commitment to Community Health

New York City, New York Jan 28, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Michael Nacol, MD, a respected board-certified internist, has officially retired from medical practice as of 2023, concluding a remarkable career that has spanned nearly 39 years in Georgetown, Texas. Dr. Nacol has been a cornerstone of the local medical community, having established his private practice in 1985 and serving as Chief of Medicine at St. David's Hospital. He also contributed significantly to the Georgetown Center for Adult Medicine, where he provided comprehensive care to countless patients.

Throughout his career, Dr. Nacol maintained an interest in allergy and immunology, as well as general internal medicine; utilizing his extensive knowledge to treat patients with various conditions. He also maintained a strong interest in nutrition and wellness, advocating for alternative treatment options that promote holistic health and well-being. His commitment to patient-centered care has positively impacted the lives of many individuals in the Georgetown area.

Dr. Nacol earned his Undergraduate Degree from the University of Texas and received his Medical Degree from the Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center School of Medicine in 1980. He completed his residency in general surgery at Marshall School of Medicine and internal medicine at East Tennessee State University, laying the foundation for a successful practice. As a Diplomate of the American Board of Internal Medicine, Dr. Nacol upheld the highest standards of medical excellence and professionalism throughout his career.

He has been an active member of several professional organizations, including the American Medical Association, the American College of Physicians, and the Texas Medical Association. His dedication to service extended beyond his practice; Dr. Nacol supported Samaritan's Purse, an evangelical Christian humanitarian organization that provides vital assistance to those in need as part of its mission.

On a personal note, Dr. Nacol is happily married and is a proud father of five children. In his leisure time, he enjoys outdoor activities such as hunting and fishing, with Africa and Canada being his favorite vacation destination.

As Dr. Nacol embarks on this new chapter in his life, he leaves behind a legacy of compassionate care and unwavering dedication to the health and well-being of the Georgetown community. The residents of Georgetown will forever be grateful for his years of service and commitment to excellence in medicine.
