

Nicole Simonson, DNP, RN: A Leader in Nursing Excellence and Education

Transforming care at Watertown Regional Medical Center and Advancing Nursing Education at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee

New York City, New York Jan 23, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Milwaukee, Wisconsin – Nicole Simonson, DNP, RN, a prominent nursing professional with extensive clinical experience and a passion for education, continues to make remarkable contributions to the field of nursing. With a career spanning various specialties, including acute care in cardiac stepdown, intensive care unit, and cardiac catheterization lab, Nicole is dedicated to improving patient outcomes and advancing nursing practice.

Nicole earned her Bachelor of Science in Nursing from Mount Mary University in 2007, followed by a Master of Science in Nursing Education from Kaplan University in 2014. In 2020, she achieved her Doctorate of Nursing Practice from the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee. Currently, she practices at Watertown Regional Medical Center, where she plays a pivotal role in the float pool.

In addition to her clinical responsibilities, Nicole serves as the Director of RN-to-BSN Completion Programs and Clinical Associate Professor at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee School of Nursing. In this role, she has been instrumental in shaping the next generation of nursing professionals by imparting her expertise in competency-based education. Her commitment to interprofessional collaboration and education reflects her belief in the importance of teamwork in delivering high-quality patient care.

Nicole's dedication to nursing excellence extends beyond her immediate clinical and educational roles. She actively participates in professional organizations, including the American Nurses Association, the American Association of Critical-Care Nurses, and the National League for Nursing. Her certifications in Pediatric Advanced Life Support (PALS) and Advanced Cardiovascular Life Support (ACLS) through the American Heart Association further underscore her commitment to patient safety and clinical proficiency.

Nicole Simonson embodies the philosophy that nursing is integral to one's identity. Her passion for the profession drives her to continually seek opportunities for growth and improvement, both personally and professionally. As she shares her insights at national conferences and through peer-reviewed publications, Nicole remains a source of inspiration for her colleagues and students alike.
