

Bijal Rana, MSN, RN: A Beacon of Compassionate Care at Hunterdon Health in Flemington, New Jersey

Transforming Lives Through Expertise and Dedication in Nursing

New York City, New York Mar 4, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Bijal M. Rana, a distinguished healthcare professional with extensive expertise in cardiac and geriatric nursing, continues to make a profound impact in the medical field. With a career spanning over two decades, Rana has demonstrated exceptional leadership, patient advocacy, and clinical excellence, driving advancements in cardiovascular care and enhancing patient outcomes.

Rana currently serves as a Clinical Coordinator for Interventional Cardiology in the Cardiac Cath Lab and moonlights as an Administrative Nursing Supervisor at Hunterdon Health. In this role, she has played a key part in achieving the American College of Cardiology's Cardiac Cath Lab with PCI Accreditation, a significant milestone that underscores her commitment to quality and excellence in patient care. She has also led multidisciplinary teams, implemented process improvements, and ensured adherence to Joint Commission standards.

Throughout her career, Rana has excelled in various leadership roles, including serving as a Cardiac Cath Lab RN and a Cardiovascular Service Quality Coordinator. Her expertise extends to advanced cardiac procedures such as diagnostic catheterization, elective PCI, peripheral angioplasty, pacemaker implants, and emergency interventions for acute myocardial infarctions (Code MI). She has also been actively involved in research, data analysis, and quality improvement initiatives, ensuring compliance with national benchmarks and enhancing overall patient care standards.

Beyond her clinical expertise, Rana is dedicated to educating and mentoring the next generation of nurses. As an adjunct clinical instructor at Lincoln Technical Institute, she has provided hands-on training and critical thinking exercises to nursing students, preparing them for real-world clinical practice. Her passion for knowledge is reflected in her continuous professional development.

She holds a Master's in Nursing Leadership from Kean University, a Bachelor of Science in Nursing from The College of New Jersey, and an RN Diploma from Charles E. Gregory School of Nursing. In addition, she has earned a Lean Six Sigma Black Belt certification to drive efficiency and quality improvements in healthcare settings.

"Nursing is my passion, and I am honored to contribute to advancements in cardiac care while ensuring the highest quality of service for patients," said Rana. "I am fortunate to have an incredible team beside me and a great support system that motivates me to be able to provide compassionate, evidence-based care and mentoring future healthcare professionals is what drives me every day."

Rana is a member of several professional organizations, including American College of Cardiology, Sigma Theta Tau International Honor Society of Nursing, and the Preventive Cardiovascular Nurses Association (PCNA). She continues to lead initiatives that enhance patient care, streamline operations, and improve healthcare delivery at both institutional and community levels.
