A Range of Specialty Epoxy Coating Solutions

FloorOn has earned fame for providing different specialty coating services.

Epoxy full-flake system

If clients want a highly durable and decorative surface, FloorOn recommends using an epoxy full-flake system. The decorative finish adds texture to the floor and improves durability. The experts apply a specially formulated epoxy primer to seal the concrete. Moreover, they use commercial-grade epoxy color to treat the floor in an industrial setting. The chemical-resistant coating protects the surface from oil and other substances.

Stone effect floor system

FloorOn has dedicated professionals who work on epoxy stone effect floor systems. Some property owners want the natural beauty of stones for their floor surface. So, experts use the epoxy resin in a way that mimics the appearance of natural stones. They prepare the substrate and repair imperfections on the floor. The epoxy system adheres properly because the experts apply primer before using the coating. The resin creates a stone effect and provides a seamless layer.

Epoxy plain color system

Some people prefer a minimalistic flooring surface without any decorative textures. So, the FloorOn team uses high-quality epoxy resin over the well-prepared surface. Although the process involves using a single color, there is an option for customization. The shade perfectly matches other colors in the interior space. It is also easy to clean a plain epoxy surface. FloorOn provides a cost-effective epoxy plain color solution for residential and commercial properties.

Anti-slip floor system

FloorOn offers anti-slip flooring solutions for those who are concerned about slip and fall accidents. For instance, commercial kitchens and other industrial facilities need anti-slip floor surfaces to prevent mishaps. The experts use a premium-quality epoxy resin that adds strength to the surface. They mix anti-slip additives with the epoxy resin to coat the surface. Silica sand and other particles in the mixture create a textured surface that improves traction.
