A Board Certified Diplomate of the International Congress of Oral Implantologists, Dr. Osseiran graduated from Cairo University School of Dentistry in 1984. His pursuit of knowledge led him to Georgetown University School of Dentistry, where he completed two post-graduate Advanced Dental Training programs between 1985 and 1989. Here, he earned dual Fellowship Certificates in Occlusion, Temporomandibular Joint Management, and Prosthodontics, along with a Master's Degree in Prosthodontics.

Dr. Osseiran has been a trailblazer in the field, particularly in the treatment of Obstructive Sleep Apnea (OSA). As one of the early pioneers, he developed a unique intraoral dental appliance and shared his innovative technique in the April 1995 issue of the Journal of the American Dental Association. His dedication to patient care and advancement in dental technology has made him a sought-after expert in the field.

In private practice since 1990, Dr. Osseiran further honed his skills by completing a two-year postgraduate training program in Implant Dentistry at New York University College of Dentistry from 1998 to 2000. His extensive training and experience have earned him numerous accolades, including a Recognition Resolution from the Senate of Maryland as a Master Dentist of the Academy of General Dentistry in April 2006—the highest professional stature in clinical dentistry.

With over 5,000 hours of Continuing Education, Dr. Osseiran's dedication to lifelong learning was recognized by the American Academy of General Dentistry, culminating in the prestigious Lifelong Learning and Service to Dentistry award in 2016—an honor bestowed upon fewer than 400 dentists nationwide.
