Charles Davis' drug rehab marketing and drug rehab SEO guide sheds light on the vital role of search engine optimization (SEO) in drug rehab marketing. It provides actionable insights for developing effective campaigns to boost online visibility, generate leads, and maintain a strong census for rehabilitation centers. From local drug rehab SEO strategies and SEO website development to the latest trends in digital marketing, the guide addresses key challenges facing addiction treatment facilities today.

Why Drug Rehab Marketing and Drug Rehab SEO Matters

Drug rehabilitation centers are facing growing pressure to obtain clients in an industry saturated with over 13,000 facilities across the U.S. At the same time, outdated or misaligned digital marketing strategies have left many treatment centers falling behind. According to Davis, “Drug Rehab

Marketing and Drug Rehab SEO Digital Darwinism”—99% of drug rehabs still think Google AdWords and PPC is the best way to market a treatment center.

There are over a dozen centers spending $500,000/month in PPC. Small and medium centers can't compete. Drug rehab SEO provides the lowest CPA over all other advertising combined.. Yet, only 1% of drug rehabs ever get ranked on page one of Google for key search terms. Many addiction treatment centers are forced to close their doors prematurely. This guide aims to reverse that trend.
