California, United States Mar 19, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - The second book in the ‘Anomaly in the Construct’ series by Carli B. Frueh isn’t just a story—it’s a war drum, a cracked mirror, a blueprint for breaking free. Out now, this isn’t fiction; it’s a vivid, pulse-pounding dive into a world where the cage is clay, and the keys are ours to seize.

Picture this: a desert night, the glow of a dying phone, and a flood of raw voices spilling across X—real people, not puppets, peeling back the multilayered psychological operations being fed. That’s where Controlled Rebellion begins, born from the same restless hum that’s driving a digital uprising. “Illusion Veils the Matrix, We Architect Our Own Reality, writes Carli B. Frueh, eloquently channels the defiance of a community done with scripted outrage and hollow influencers. This book is for the @TruthSeeker777s, the @NeoMatrix007s, the @Carlifrueh ‘s @RebelHeart111s, the ones who see the strings and refuse to dance.

In Controlled Rebellion, the Construct trembles as its architects lose their grip. The rebels scattered yet synced through a pulsing, unfiltered feed — wield truth like a weapon, tearing through nested lies to forge something authentic. It’s a narrative that bends minds and ignites hope, a story that doesn’t just reflect our world but dares us to rewrite it. The desert wind howls, the Jeep rumbles, and the wildfire spreads—because this isn’t their rebellion anymore. It’s ours.”

Carli B. Frueh is ready to bring the fire to your platform.
