

Dr. Jacqueline Thomas: A Beacon of Leadership and Compassion in Healthcare

Providing Exceptional Care to Those in Need

New York City, New York Mar 11, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Dr. Jacqueline Thomas, a dedicated healthcare professional and community leader, currently excels in two vital roles within the healthcare sector. As the owner of Angel Wing Residential Care Home in Demopolis, Alabama, and the Chief Nursing Officer at Sumter Health and Rehabilitation in York, Alabama, Dr. Thomas is committed to enhancing the quality of care for residents and fostering a supportive environment for staff.

At Angel Wing Residential Care Home, Dr. Thomas oversees daily operations, ensuring that both residents and staff experience a safe, nurturing atmosphere. Her leadership is characterized by a hands-on approach to staff education, emphasizing the importance of safety and well-being for all individuals involved. In her role at Sumter Health and Rehabilitation, she manages the nursing department, striving to provide exceptional care to residents while mentoring new nursing staff. Her dual expertise in administration and nursing education allows her to cultivate a culture of excellence within her teams.

Born and raised in Demopolis, Dr. Thomas is a proud mother of three, with children ranging in age from 36 to 3 years old, including a foster child. Her commitment to service extends beyond healthcare; she served in the military for eight years, participating in the Desert Shield and Desert Storm operations. In 2015, she accepted her call to ministry, dedicating herself to encouraging others to turn to God, which she credits as a guiding force in her life.

Dr. Thomas' educational background is robust and diverse. She earned her Advanced Diploma from John Essex in 1989, followed by an Associate of Science in Registered Nursing from the University of West Alabama in 1996. Her pursuit of knowledge continued at South University, where she obtained both a Bachelor's degree in Nursing Science in 2009 and a Master's degree in Nursing Education in 2011. Recently, she achieved her Doctorate in Nursing from Troy University in 2023.

Reflecting on her success, Dr. Thomas states, "My close walk with God has guided me through every aspect of my life, helping me make informed decisions that ensure the best care for everyone I encounter." Outside of her professional responsibilities, she enjoys watching TV and listening to gospel music.
