

Jessica L. Manning, BSN, RN: A Dedicated Nurse at the Forefront of Recovery at John Brooks Recovery Center

Providing Compassionate, Patient-Centered Care in Addiction and Behavioral Health

New York City, New York Mar 4, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - Jessica L. Manning, BSN, RN, is making significant strides in the field of nursing as a Registered Nurse at the John Brooks Recovery Center, affiliated with AtlantiCare Regional Medical Center. Located at 660 Black Horse Pike in Pleasantville, New Jersey, this outpatient treatment facility is committed to a recovery-oriented model that seamlessly integrates physical health, behavioral health, and recovery support services to empower individuals on their path to recovery.

Jessica's educational journey began at the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey (UMDNJ), now part of Rutgers University, where she proudly earned her Bachelor of Science in Nursing in 2009. Her passion for nursing drove her to further her education, pursuing a Master of Science in Nursing with a focus on Psychiatric-Mental Health Nurse Practitioner at Walden University. This commitment to advanced education highlights Jessica's dedication to providing specialized and high-quality patient care, particularly for those navigating the challenges of mental health and substance use disorders.

With a wealth of experience in trauma-intensive care units, emergency rooms, and administrative roles, Jessica possesses a comprehensive skill set that uniquely positions her to manage substance use disorders effectively. Her professional affiliations with the American Psychiatric Nurses Association, the Society of Trauma Nurses, and the National Society of Leadership and Success underscore her commitment to ongoing professional development and excellence in patient care.

Jessica attributes her success and empathetic approach to the diverse life experiences and challenges she has encountered personally. This unique perspective allows her to connect with patients on a profound level, fostering an environment of understanding and support. Her dedication to nursing extends beyond her professional responsibilities; she is deeply committed to enhancing the well-being of every individual in her care, striving to make a meaningful difference in their lives.

As she continues her journey in nursing, Jessica L. Manning remains a beacon of hope at the John Brooks Recovery Center, embodying the principles of compassion, resilience, and dedication. Her ongoing efforts to advance her education and enhance her skill set reflect her unwavering commitment to the nursing profession and the recovery community.
