

PACT Primary Care Evan Perry Angelus, MD: A Beacon of Health and Compassion in West Haven

Delivering Preventive Care and Empowering Patients at PACT Primary Care

New York City, New York Mar 25, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - PACT Primary Care is proud to highlight the ongoing contributions of Evan Perry Angelus, MD, a dedicated physician providing exemplary care to patients at the West Haven location in Connecticut. Affiliated with St. Vincent's Medical Center, Dr. Angelus's presence enhances the quality of healthcare available to the community, ensuring patients receive the utmost attention and support.

As a board-certified physician in internal medicine, Dr. Angelus is committed to delivering preventive care while fostering a holistic approach to health. His clinical interests center on empowering patients through proactive health management and education. Dr. Angelus firmly believes in the importance of building strong relationships with his patients, ensuring they feel supported and understood in their health journeys. His patient-first philosophy exemplifies the core values of PACT Primary Care.

Dr. Angelus's academic background demonstrates his dedication and passion for medicine. He holds a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Molecular Biology from Colgate University, where he graduated Magna Cum Laude in 2014. His pursuit of excellence continued at New York Medical College, where he earned his Doctor of Medicine Degree in 2020, graduating with honors and being inducted into the prestigious Alpha Omega Alpha Honor Medical Society.

Completing his residency in internal medicine at Yale-New Haven Hospital, Dr. Angelus was recognized for his outstanding performance and was selected as Chief Medical Resident. During this pivotal time, he effectively managed the Center of Education (COE) Primary Care Clinic at the West Haven VA Medical Center. His leadership skills and dedication to patient care shone through, establishing him as a trusted figure in the medical community.

Before embarking on his medical career, Dr. Angelus gained invaluable experience at the National Institutes of Health in Bethesda, Maryland. This role solidified his commitment to advancing healthcare through evidence-based practice, ensuring that he remains at the forefront of medical innovation and patient care.

Outside of his professional responsibilities, Dr. Angelus is an avid outdoor enthusiast, enjoying activities such as rock climbing, skiing, and biking. His passion for an active lifestyle reflects his belief in the importance of physical health for overall well-being. Dr. Angelus' commitment to both his profession and personal passions serves as a source of inspiration to his colleagues and patients alike.
