

Pulmonologist and Critical Care Specialist, Jorge Dolojan, MD, Elevates Patient Care Standards in Virginia

Advancing Care for Chronic Respiratory and Sleep Disorders and Delivering Critical Care Excellence

New York City, New York Mar 11, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Fredericksburg, Virginia – Jorge Dolojan, MD, a respected pulmonologist and critical care specialist, continues to make significant contributions to the field of pulmonary and critical care medicine at Virginia Pulmonology and Critical Care, LLC. With a mission centered on the amelioration of patients suffering from chronic respiratory and sleep disorders, Dr. Dolojan embodies the principles of compassionate care and dedicated service, raising the standard of healthcare in the Fredericksburg community.

Dr. Dolojan's approach to patient care resonates with the motto of Virginia Pulmonology and Critical Care: "spiro, spero," which translates to "I breathe, I hope." This philosophy reflects his commitment to instilling hope and fostering resilience in his patients as they navigate the complexities of their health challenges. Dr. Dolojan welcomes the challenges that his specialty brings, and it is his goal to ensure that every patient receives optimal management and understanding of their condition.

Graduating from the esteemed Saba University School of Medicine in 2005, Dr. Dolojan completed his medical training with a rigorous internship, internal medicine residency, and subsequent fellowship in pulmonary disease and critical care at UMDNJ New Jersey Medical School. His extensive training at renowned institutions, including University Hospital, Hackensack University Medical Center, and East Orange Veterans Administration Medical Center, has equipped him with a comprehensive understanding that enhances his ability to provide exceptional patient care.

Since joining the Fredericksburg medical community in 2012, Dr. Dolojan has had a profound impact as an ICU medical director at two leading hospitals and maintains affiliations with key healthcare facilities, including Mary Washington Hospital, Spotsylvania Regional Medical Center, and Stafford Hospital. His contributions to the field extend beyond clinical practice—he is often sought after for his expertise in diagnosing complex respiratory disorders and managing critically ill patients.

Dr. Dolojan specializes in a broad range of conditions affecting the respiratory system, including asthma, chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD), lung cancer, interstitial lung diseases, and sleep-disordered breathing, such as sleep apnea. His deep knowledge of pulmonary vascular diseases and the interactions between respiratory health and cardiovascular conditions further enhance his ability to provide holistic and effective care.

As a board-certified specialist in pulmonary disease, critical care medicine, and internal medicine by the American Board of Internal Medicine, Dr. Dolojan is recognized for his expertise in managing critically ill patients. His training allows him to navigate the intricate physiological responses associated with sepsis, infections, and organ dysfunction, ensuring comprehensive care for those in need of life support.

Dr. Dolojan's dedication and exceptional patient care have earned him accolades, including recognition as one of Northern Virginia Magazine's Top Doctors in 2016, 2020, and 2021. As a member of the American Medical Association, the American College of Chest Physicians, and the American College of Physicians, he remains committed to advancing the standards of medical excellence.

"Every patient deserves the highest standard of care," Dr. Dolojan asserts. "I am grateful for the opportunities that God has given me, and I strive to honor that through hard work and dedication to my patients."
