Expert in Charge Audits and Denials, Driving Excellence in Perioperative Administration at UC Health

New York City, New York Mar 31, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Armed with a Nursing Degree from Good Samaritan College of Nursing and Health Science and over 15 years of experience as a Registered Nurse, Samantha Davis has established herself as a distinguished expert in perioperative services, surgical environments, and trauma Intensive Care Units (ICU). Currently serving as a Registered Nurse specializing in charge audits and denials for perioperative administration at UC Health, Samantha plays a crucial role in ensuring the accuracy and efficiency of surgical operations and patient care management within the Cincinnati community and beyond.

Throughout her impressive career, Samantha has developed a robust understanding of the complexities involved in surgical procedures and the impact of these on patient outcomes. Her decade-long experience in perioperative services has provided her with in-depth knowledge and expertise that are invaluable in today's fast-paced healthcare environment. In addition, Samantha's tenure as an interim manager for Same Day Surgery has further refined her leadership capabilities and operational insight, enabling her to effectively manage teams and streamline processes to enhance patient care.

Samantha's extensive background in surgical and trauma ICU settings has equipped her with the skills needed to navigate high-pressure situations with both precision and compassion. Her dedication to improving patient care is evident through her meticulous audits and proactive approach in addressing denials, ultimately driving operational effectiveness and fostering a culture of excellence in healthcare delivery.

"I am passionate about leveraging my nursing experience to drive improvements in patient care and operational processes," said Samantha. "Every patient deserves the highest standard of care, and I am committed to ensuring that our surgical teams have the support and resources they need to achieve this."

Looking ahead, Samantha is eager to continue contributing to advancements in perioperative services while exploring new opportunities for professional growth. Her commitment to excellence and patient advocacy positions her as a leader in the nursing community, dedicated to fostering a safer and more efficient healthcare environment.
