The company is enhancing its fleet and offerings to meet the growing demand for deep sea fishing experiences in the area.

The fishing charter company is introducing new full-day and multi-day offshore fishing trips that will allow anglers to venture further into the Atlantic Ocean in pursuit of prized game fish. The expanded services will provide opportunities to target species such as mahi-mahi, sailfish, wahoo, tuna, and marlin that inhabit the deeper waters off Florida's Space Coast.

The company's flagship vessel, the 34-foot Nancy Jane II, has been outfitted with state-of-the-art fish-finding technology and safety equipment to facilitate extended offshore excursions. Arts Adventures has also increased its crew of experienced captains and mates to accommodate more charters.

Offshore fishing trips will depart daily from Port Canaveral, weather permitting, and can be customized based on group size, target species, and desired trip length. Offshore fishing charters can be booked through the Arts Adventures website or by contacting the company directly. Trips are available year-round, with peak seasons for various game fish species occurring at different times throughout the year. Spring and early summer are ideal for targeting mahi-mahi and wahoo, while late summer and fall offer excellent opportunities for sailfish and marlin. Winter months are prime for catching grouper and snapper species.
