

Virginia Loewenstine, MD: A Leader in Occupational Medicine and Founder of Tristate Preventive Health Consultants

Delivering Corporate Medical Consulting & On-Site Preventive Health Testing in the Greater Cincinnati/NKY Region

New York City, New York Mar 11, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Virginia Loewenstine, MD, an esteemed occupational medicine specialist, serves as the CEO, Medical Director, and Founder of Tristate Preventive Health Consultants, located in Cincinnati, Ohio. Established in 2007, Tristate Preventive Health Consultants has become a cornerstone for quality corporate medical consulting for employers, offering on-site preventive health testing services across Ohio and Kentucky. Multi Cancer Early Detection Testing, using tumor antigen markers as the basis of testing, demonstrates her commitment to being at the forefront of preventive health.

Dr. Loewenstine is not only a pioneer in her field but also the National Medical Director for Givaudan, the world's leading flavor and fragrances company. Her dual role allows her to evaluate and enhance the interaction between work and health, demonstrating a deep understanding of the nuances of occupational medicine.

Dr. Loewenstine's academic journey began with a Bachelor of Science Degree from Eastern Kentucky University in 1983, followed by her Medical Degree from the University of Toledo College of Medicine and Life Sciences in 1987. She completed her residency in family medicine at the St. Elizabeth Franciscan Medical Center, laying a strong foundation for her future in healthcare. With over 35 years of experience in occupational and preventive medicine, Dr. Loewenstine holds board certification in family medicine from the American Board of Family Medicine and is one of the select few healthcare providers globally to have earned a Certificate of Knowledge in Travel Health.

To maintain her expertise, Dr. Loewenstine engages actively with several professional organizations, including the American College of Occupational and Environmental Medicine, the American College of Lifestyle Medicine, the American Academy of Family Physicians, and the International Society of Travel Medicine. Her commitment to education is evident through her involvement in teaching and training first responders and emergency response teams, as well as mentoring physician assistants, nurse practitioners, and nurses in occupational and travel medicine.

Dr. Loewenstine also dedicates her time to educating the public, authoring a regular column titled "Doc on Duty" in CRACKYL - Firefighter Lifestyle, Health and Fitness Magazine, where she shares her insights on preventive health and the significance of industrial screenings.

Throughout her distinguished career, Dr. Loewenstine has received numerous accolades for her contributions to medicine. Early recognition as one of America's Top Physicians by the Consumer Research Council of America set the stage for her exemplary career. She has been honored as a lifetime member of the Cambridge Who's Who Registry of Executives & Professionals and is recognized in America's Registry of Outstanding Professionals. Dr. Loewenstine was also the recipient of the Spirit of Women Award in the Regional Healthcare Provider category.

Her growing reputation in the medical community has led to her inclusion in Strathmore's Who's Who as an Honored Member. Dr. Loewenstine has been featured as the cover story for Focus Magazine, reflecting her impact in the medical field. Consistently recognized by Cincy Magazine as a Top Doctor in Occupational Medicine and Preventive Medicine for 2022, 2023, and 2024, she was recently honored as one of the Top 50 Women Leaders in Medicine for 2025 by Women We Admire Magazine, solidifying her legacy as a leader in healthcare.

Outside of her professional commitments, Dr. Loewenstine enjoys traveling, gardening, and photography, finding inspiration and balance in her personal life.
