

bioQ unveils a new era of eco-friendly gifting with zero-plastic innovations bioQ launches a bold lineup of sustainable gifts online, from plantable pens to green office kits, reshaping corporate gifting with zero-plastic impact.

Delhi, India Apr 4, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - bioQ, India's innovator in sustainable products, is redefining the corporate gifting space with a revolutionary 100% eco-friendly product line. With its commitment to “environmental intelligence,” bioQ merges thoughtful design, practical utility, and measurable ecological impact—positioning itself as a market leader in eco friendly gifting.

At the heart of bioQ's offering is a simple but powerful mission: make gifting purposeful. The company's new collection features zero-plastic pens made with recycled paper, plantable seed pencils, eco-friendly notepads, biodegradable calendars, and signature kits like the Growmazing™ and Eco Starter sets.

Each product is crafted not just to reduce environmental harm, but to actively regenerate the planet.

As the demand for eco-friendly gifts online surges across corporate India and global markets, bioQ's catalog provides a timely, values-driven alternative. Whether it's a sustainable employee welcome kit, a nature-inspired educational bundle, or festive gifts that bloom into plants, every item delivers a tangible ecological benefit.

The impact? Over 24 lakh kilograms of CO₂ emissions avoided, 2,200 trees saved, and 14,000 kilograms of plastic diverted from landfills. With one plantable stationery item sold every two seconds, bioQ's movement isn't just sustainable—it's scalable.

Each gift set is designed to be more than a token—it's a gesture that speaks to climate consciousness and brand responsibility. Customization and bulk orders are handled with agile precision, supported by ISO-certified manufacturing and rapid turnaround times.

Operating from New Delhi, bioQ serves clients across India, the Middle East, Europe, and Southeast Asia through corporate partnerships and direct e-commerce at bioq.in. The brand's expanding international presence underscores the global appetite for mindful merchandise that aligns with ESG goals.

From planting seeds to planting ideas, bioQ is changing the way businesses show appreciation—one gift at a time. In doing so, it invites consumers and companies alike to make choices that are not only memorable but meaningful.
