

Cabana Contractor in San Diego Offers Free Backyard Design Consultations for Spring/Summer Projects

San Diego, California Jun 13, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Just in time for the warmer months, Mel Development Inc., one of the most trusted cabana builders near me in San Diego, has announced a limited-time offer: free professional backyard design consultations for homeowners looking to elevate their outdoor spaces.

Operating from its headquarters at 4455 La Crosse Ave., San Diego, CA 92117, the company is responding to the region's booming interest in stylish, functional outdoor retreats — especially with summer around the corner.

“Our goal is to help homeowners create an outdoor experience that reflects their lifestyle,” said the company’s lead designer. “These consultations allow us to explore ideas, materials, and layouts before construction even begins — no strings attached.”

From modern poolside lounging areas to tropical-style cabana escapes, Mel Development customizes each project to match the unique needs of every property and client. With an expert team of designers and builders, they’ve built a reputation for delivering high-quality structures that are both visually stunning and built to withstand San Diego’s coastal climate.

Homeowners searching for cabana builders near me can now take the first step toward transforming their backyards by booking a free, no-obligation design consultation — available for a limited time.
