

Crespo AI Adds Crypto Exchange to Platform Ahead of May 1 Launch

The new feature brings seamless digital currency conversion to the all-in-one martech dashboard — with a continued focus on founder empowerment and operational simplicity.

Lakeland, Florida Apr 24, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - As the countdown continues toward the official May 1 release of Crespo AI, the team at Crespo Partners has announced the addition of a new feature: Crypto Exchange — a built-in tool that allows users to convert cryptocurrency in real time, directly within their Crespo dashboard.

The feature adds financial flexibility to Crespo AI's growing suite of essential business tools, making it easier for small business owners and entrepreneurs to operate in an increasingly digital economy — without leaving their core workflow.

“Crespo AI is where momentum happens,” said Bryan Jaglal, Founder of Crespo Partners. “With Crypto Exchange, we’re giving our users the ability to explore crypto, simplify transactions, and manage more of their business in one place. It’s about removing friction — and unlocking optionality.”

While Crespo AI is best known as a martech solution, it also includes over 30 integrated tools that support operations across content, customer engagement, communication, and now, digital finance. From invoicing to lead management and now crypto conversion, Crespo AI continues to evolve into an intelligent command center for modern entrepreneurs.

“Founders today need clarity, speed and systems that don’t silo them,” Jaglal added. “That’s what we’re building — a platform that helps them move forward without needing five different tabs open.”

Crespo AI's move also aligns with a broader trend: increasing interest in accessible, decentralized financial tools. While Crypto Exchange was designed with simplicity in mind, it reflects the platform’s support for innovation and ownership in business. As part of that vision, Crespo AI is a supporter of the Stand With Crypto movement — a nationwide effort to protect the rights of Americans to build, use and innovate with digital assets.
