Renowned economics tutor Edmund Quek continues to raise the bar for 'A' Level Economics education in Singapore through his bestselling books, expert guidance, and proven teaching methods.

Singapore, Singapore Apr 18, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Edmund Quek, Principal Economics Tutor at Economics Cafe, is redefining the standards of 'A' Level Economics education in Singapore. Widely regarded as the most qualified and experienced economics tutor in the country, Mr. Quek's academic achievements and teaching excellence continue to earn him national recognition.

A graduate of the National University of Singapore (NUS), Mr. Quek completed his Master's Degree (MSSc) in Economics with a near-perfect CAP of 4.5. He achieved distinctions in key modules such as Microeconomic Theory, Macroeconomic Theory, Mathematical Economics, and Corporate Finance. Demonstrating unparalleled academic depth, Mr. Edmund Quek also completed PhD-level modules in Advanced Microeconomic and Macroeconomic Theory, both with distinction.

Over the past two decades, Mr. Quek has dedicated his career to teaching, mentoring, and authoring some of Singapore's most widely used economics resources. His titles, including Economics – A Singapore Perspective and 'A' Level Economics Model Essays, have collectively sold over 33,000 copies, making them top recommendations in junior colleges and tuition centres across the country.

His educational centre, Economics Cafe, is known for producing outstanding academic results, with many of his students achieving distinctions in their 'A' Level examinations. Mr. Quek's structured teaching style, combined with real-world applications and exam-oriented strategies, has made him the tutor of choice for students aspiring to academic excellence in economics.

In recognition of his teaching excellence, Mr. Quek has also earned multiple certifications in teaching, lesson management, and student mentoring. He is a member of the Economic Society of Singapore, staying actively engaged with the latest developments in the field.

As the demand for quality education continues to grow, Mr. Edmund Quek remains at the forefront of shaping Singapore's top economics minds—one student at a time.
