

GovPlus Expands Push for Simpler Government Services

New Campaign Highlights the Need for Accessible, Secure, and User-Friendly Government Application Support

Claymont, Delaware Apr 21, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - GovPlus, the private software company transforming how individuals interact with government processes, today announced a new awareness campaign focused on simplifying and securing access to critical public services. The initiative, aimed at streamlining document management and form completion, comes in response to growing demand for safer, more accessible alternatives to traditional government channels.

Each year, millions of Americans struggle with complex forms, slow application systems, and outdated government websites. According to recent data from the U.S. Census Bureau and Federal Trade Commission, more than 246 million government forms are filed annually, with many users reporting difficulties navigating them. Meanwhile, identity theft cases related to public-sector transactions have surged, with over 1.4 million reports filed in 2023 alone.

GovPlus addresses these challenges by offering an all-in-one platform for handling government applications such as passport renewals, TSA PreCheck® enrollment and Social Security card requests. With over 500,000 successful applications submitted and more than 100,000 users served, GovPlus has already helped eliminate 1.2 million hours of paperwork-related delays and reduced more than 520 tons of potential carbon emissions by minimizing the need for in-person government visits.

The company's services are built around automation, real-time application tracking, digital identity protection, and personalized support. Users can avoid time-consuming tasks like printing forms, driving to offices, or deciphering unclear instructions. Instead, the GovPlus platform fills out the correct documents automatically and provides live support and security alerts every step of the way.

The new campaign includes educational outreach, updated service transparency pages, and a dedicated push to inform the public that while government forms are free through official channels, services like GovPlus exist to make the process easier, more secure, and more reliable. This approach not only reduces errors but also helps cut down on government backlog and fraud risk.

With over 8,900 GovPlus reviews averaging 4.8 stars, the demand for accessible alternatives continues to grow. In particular, the company has seen a surge in interest among seniors, busy professionals, and rural users who may not have easy access to government offices or the time to wait in line.
